My IBS Story...

MARTINCLINIC.COM

Hey, It's Dr. Martin here...

I remember the first time my gut hurt. I remember it like it was yesterday.

I was 21, had just gotten married and we were living in a tiny (but cozy) apartment close to college.

Then it happened. It was like I got punched in the gut.

The pain was intense and it wasn't going away.

My wife knew something was wrong because I was white as a ghost.

This was my first experience with what I'd later learn was IBS, or Irritable Bowel Syndrome.

IBS can affect people differently, but pain and cramping are the most common symptoms.

Most with IBS get messed up bowels...diarrhea, constipation, or both.

Many get terrible bloating and gas.

It can affect every aspect of your life.

It's also nearly impossible to have normal energy when the gut is messed up which is why many with IBS have fatigue.

To make matters worse, it's usually a frustrating experience trying to figure out what's going on with your gut. Getting an IBS diagnosis is a long, difficult process.

Most of the time, a person will come to the IBS diagnosis on their own...like I did.

The truth is, most doctors don't know much about IBS and even less about how to fix it. Which means you're usually left to figure things out for yourself.

Doctors don't understand that when your bowels get 'angry' (that's how I describe it), everything you eat will make it mad.

And when your bowels get mad, anything and everything will cause PAIN, BLOATING, GAS, DIARRHEA, CONSTIPATION etc...

This is why it can be difficult and frustrating to figure out what's going on.

You're also told that you have to learn how to 'live' with it.

We'll...you don't.

You don't have to live with IBS.

You don't have to live with terrible pain and cramping.

You don't have to learn to live with messed up bowels.

The Most Important Supplement For IBS.

MARTINCLINIC.COM

Hey, It's Dr. Martin here...

When you have IBS you know full well what it's like to have stomach pain.

You know what it's like when you HAVE to go to the washroom RIGHT NOW.

But...

Those without IBS don't really understand what you're going through...

Not even your doctor.

You see...

Most people understand that when your heart has problems or breaks...you die.

And they also understand that when your brain breaks you get dementia (and die).

But when it comes to the gut most people have a "who cares" attitude.

They think the gut is a simple organ to fix, like a broken finger...

Or something you can simply "live with".

But it's not.

Your gut is incredibly important, difficult to fix, and you can't live normally without it.

So...

How does your gut break?

What's the CAUSE of IBS?

I still remember the old shag carpet we used to have in our house.

It was a thing of beauty (aside from the fact it's impossible to properly clean and every allergen in the world can attach to it).

Your gut is a lot like that shag carpet.

Your intestines are about 25 feet long from one end to the other.

And they are filled with tiny microscopic hair, called villi, that line the whole length of your intestines.

Villi is literally latin for 'shaggy hair'.

If you were to look at the inside of your intestines with a microscope they would look like a shag carpet.

The purpose of the villi (shaggy hair) is to allow the absorption of nutrients through the intestines and into your blood stream.

Now... Not everything should get through your gut and into your bloodstream.

That would be terrible for your health.

Junk like viruses, bad bacteria, undigested food, fungus, and other toxins should NEVER get into your blood.

So... In order to prevent junk from getting through the villi and into your blood...

Imagine covering your shag carpet with a mattress cover (weird...I know).

The purpose of the mattress cover is to STOP junk from getting to your villi so that they can't be absorbed into your blood stream.

That's where probiotics come in.

Your good bacteria (probiotics) are like that mattress cover. They protects your villi and your bloodstream.

But...

What happens if mattress cover rips?

Junk that NEVER should touch that beautiful shag carpet are now able to.

The same thing happens when your good bacteria in your gut gets destroyed.

Junk is now leaking into your bloodstream...

And you now have a condition called Leaky Gut Syndrome.

That's how IBS starts.

IBS always starts with Leaky Gut Syndrome.

Here's what I LOVE about probiotics.

They can help ELIMINATE IBS symptoms like pain and messed up bowels...

AND they help REBUILD your gut at the same time.

The most important thing you can do right now to help fix your IBS is take a good probiotic.

Years ago, we decided it was time to make our own probiotic formula because we were constantly frustrated with the ones on the market.

Our patients weren't getting the results they should have been.

Our probiotics have been specially formulated using my 44 years of clinical experience.

Each of the 11 strains (there are tens of thousands of possible strains) have been specifically chosen for MAXIMUM benefit.

Most probiotics on the market contain an average of 4 different strains.

Ours also contain 50 BILLION probiotics per capsule.

These are a few of the reasons why our patients get awesome results when they take them.

What Stage Of The IBS Attack Cycle Are You In?

MARTINCLINIC.COM

When a patient visits my clinic for the first time with IBS or some other digestive problem...

I like to find out what stage of symptoms they're in

Hey, It's Dr. Martin here...

When a patient visits my clinic for the first time with IBS or some other digestive problem...

I like to find out what stage of symptoms they're in.

Are they in between IBS attacks?

Because if they are...

I remind them of a simple sailors saying...

IBS doesn't just go away on its own.

If they're in between attacks, it's like they're on a boat and looking out at the beautiful red morning sky.

The storm is coming.

Or...

Are IBS symptoms just starting up again?

They know the pain is coming.

They know messed up bowels can show up at ANY time.

Or...

Is their gut ANGRY.

Are they are in a full IBS attack.

Is everything they eat or drink causing pain or cramping.

Are they spending a lot of time in the washroom.

Are they are tired and lethargic.

It's important for me to know where they're at in the IBS attack cycle...

Because how much resting of the gut I recommend differs for each stage.

If they're gut is starting to act up or is in the angry stage...

They need to rest their gut.

It needs a break.

There are two ways that you can rest your gut.

The first involves fasting and shortening your eating window (the amount of hours you eat in a day)...

And the other is using digestive enzymes.

Digestive enzymes assist your gut by helping to breakdown food.

They share the load.

They ease the burden on your gut.

They also make sure you're able to digest and ABSORB the nutrients from food.

Most people with IBS have terrible nutrient absorption.

A big part of fixing your IBS involves using digestive enzymes.

We created our DIGESTIVE ENZYME FORMULA to help DIGESTION and LEAKY GUT SYNDROME.

If you remember from the last email...

IBS always starts as Leaky Gut Syndrome.

Our DIGESTIVE ENZYME FORMULA contains 14 hand-picked enzymes to help with...

Gut pain
Bloating
Gas
Heartburn
Nausea
Grogginess

We also added 4 ingredients specifically to help deal with the underlying Leaky Gut Syndrome.

If you've been with us for a while then you know how much we LOVE Oil of Oregano.

Oil of Oregano acts as an anti-bacterial, anti-parasitic, anti-septic, and anti-viral compound.

It fights against Candida, mold, and other nasty things that are a BIG problem for anyone with Leaky Gut.

We've also included Clove Oil Powder because it helps soothe and relax the inner lining of your intestines. It also helps relieve gas and bloating.

AND by the way...

It can also kill parasites and bad bacteria living inside your gut.

We also added Thyme Oil Powder because it's effective at regulating your bowels as well as helping your liver detoxify.

Now...

What really separates this formula from so many others is the probiotic strain that we added to it.

Bacillus Subtilis

This probiotic strain supports digestion, enzyme production, regulates your bowels, acts as an antioxidant, and is good for your immune system.

If you have IBS then you need a good digestive enzyme.

Hey, It's Dr. Martin here...

When I first realized that I had IBS...

I was terrified of having to 'live' with symptoms for the rest of my life...

Living with pain, discomfort and messed up bowels.

I looked into almost every possible natural remedy available...

And I got frustrated pretty quickly.

There were too many 'opinions' out there and non of them came from someone who was suffering like I was.

But after years of research, I discovered what worked.

The incredible thing is: Today, I'm still pain free.

My bowels are no longer a mess. In fact, my bowels are healthy.

Back then...

Nobody knew what IBS was. It wasn't on anybody's radar.

Fast forward to today.

Getting an IBS diagnosis is STILL extremely frustrating.

Only after a LOT of testing, doctor and specialist appointments will someone mention IBS.

And to make matters worse...

99% of doctors are WRONG about IBS.

The current medical approach has nothing to do with actually fixing the problem...

Instead they're only interested in 'managing' it...

Which is just another way of saying life long medication.

Most doctors, if they're honest would simply tell you...

"Sorry, I don't know much about IBS".

IBS is the MOST COMMON digestive disorder, yet most doctors have no idea how to treat it.

(IBS is the second most common reason why someone misses work!)

Here's the thing...

My cure came from knowing what it takes to help HEAL my gut.

Back then I had to track down all the nutrients I needed.

They weren't easy to find. I had to make due with what was available.

It was a frustrating trial and error process.

My mission today is to end the frustration for IBS sufferers.

This is why we created our PROBIOTIC COMPLEX, DIGESTIVE ENZYME FORMULA, and IBS FORMULA.

In the past couple emails I talked about our Probiotic Complex and Digestive Enzyme Formula.

I'd like to quickly share with you why we created our IBS FORMULA.

First...

It's specifically designed to help you repair your gut and get rid of IBS symptoms.

IBS symptoms suck.

I know that first hand.

Which is why the FIRST step in our clinic when treating IBS is eliminating symptoms.

IBS FORMULA contains 8 specifically chosen all-natural ingredients that helps ALL aspects of IBS.

For example...

We've added the perfect amount of Slippery Elm Bark because it contains a natural substance called 'mucilage' that helps EASE the irritation and SOOTHE the inflammation associated with IBS.

IBS FORMULA also contain the right amount of Ginger Root to help naturally decrease digestive pain, cramping and nausea.

We also added...

Marshmallow Root to help treat diarrhea and constipation.

Turmeric Root to help lower gut inflammation.

Hesperidin to improve blood flow to the gut and help reduce pain.

L-Glutamine because it plays a crucial role in healing the gut lining.

Apple Pectin because it’s an important prebiotic that helps reduce IBS symptoms

Lactobacillus Rhamnosus, a vital probiotic that’s desperately needed to help decrease ALL symptoms of IBS and help heal Leaky Gut Syndrome.

I’ve watched countless people in our clinic who struggled with IBS for years drastically turn their health around by following our protocol that we shared with you in the video.

This is your chance to fix your gut.
